

RETURN POLICY

By law you have the right to return your articles within 14 calendar days without giving any reason. Within this period you can look, try, and judge the article like you would do when you buy it in a store.

The period of withdrawal expires 14 days after:

- the day that the article is in your possession;
- where goods are delivered in multiple lots or pieces; from the day on which the consumer acquires the physical possession of the last lot or piece: You can use your right on return on the following terms;

- Please send back your article(s) to:

CB Fashion (Co-Lab)
Heibloemweg 10
5704 BS Helmond The Netherlands

Option: Fill in the model form right to withdrawal. You are not obligated to use this form, returning the articles with only the return form will be sufficient.

You can only send the article back;

- In –as far as possible– original condition and package.
- We can hold you accountable for any impairment, caused by other use as you would do when you buy the article in a store.

When returning your article(s), please fill in the return form included in the package you received and include it in the return shipment.

If you use your right in return, only the costs of the return shipment will be on your account. If you return in case of an incorrect delivery, we will be accountable for the costs of the shipment.

Applying the right to withdrawal does not release you of any payment obligation. If we owe you money by processing the return, and you have paid your delivery in advance by Ideal, then we will transfer your money to your account as soon as possible. Meaning; Within 14 days after processing the return shipment.

In case of an incorrect delivery, the money of the article(s) will be transferred to your bank account, including the costs you paid for the return shipment.